The Lion and the Mouse

Once when a lion was asleep, a little mouse began running up and down on him. This soon awakened the lion. The lion opened his big jaws to swallow him.

"O King!" cried the little mouse. "Forgive me this time. I shall never forget your kindness. And who knows, I may be able to repay you someday!" The lion was so tickled by the idea of the mouse being able to help him that he lifted his paw and let him go.

Sometime later, a hunter captured the lion, and tied him to a tree. After that, the hunter left the lion at the tree while he went to get a cage to put him in. Just then the little mouse happened to pass by the tree. On seeing the lion's plight, he ran up to him and gnawed away the ropes. "Was I not right?" said the little mouse, very happy to help the lion.

Love and Time

Once upon a time, there was an island where all the feelings lived: Happiness, Sadness, and Love. One day it was announced that the island would sink, so everyone left. Love was the only one who stayed. When the island had almost sunk, Love decided to ask for help.

"Richness, can you take me with you?" Love asked. "No, there is no place for you." Richness answered

"Pride, please help me!" Love asked. "I can't help you, Love." Pride answered.

Happiness passed by Love, too, but she did not hear when Love called her.

Suddenly, there was a voice, "Come, Love, I will take you." It was an elder. When they arrived at dry land, the elder went his own way. “Who helped me?” Love asked.

“It was Time,” another elder answered. “But why did Time help me?” asked Love.

The elder smiled and answered, “Because only Time is capable of understanding how valuable Love is.”
